Cuban percussionist Eliel Lazo has released an album of Afro-Cuban jazz performed by a unique line-up of Danish and Cuban musicians.

- I would love to be considered an ambassador in Europe for Cuban music and culture.

The 26-year old percussionist and composer Eliel Lazo first visited Denmark in 2004 on an invitation from the Danish Radio Big Band. Other invitations followed. Soon Denmark became a stable base on his travels around the world, and in 2007 he made Copenhagen his home. He married and now has a 3-month old daughter.

- You are welcome to regard my music as a message of love, happiness and peace. I hope to contribute pleasure, to make people smile and dance. And we need it in this Scandinavian season of darkness, which can make you a little depressed.

Eliel Lazo's CD is called EL CONGUERO – plain and simple: 'the conga-player'. It is a CD full of explosive music of Afro-Cuban persuasion, full of the sensuous rhythms that are an essential part of Cuban tradition. The band features a powerful line-up of influential Cuban and Danish instrumentalists including pianist Chucho Valdes and Danish guitarist Mikkel Nordso. All the songs were written by Eliel Lazo except Rhythm song, by Martha Skytte/Eliel Lazo and Pa Cumbanchar intro by Eliel Lazo/Chucho Valdes, and recorded in Havana, Copenhagen, Madrid and New York. The recordings were mastered by the legendary American Afro-Cuban sound wizard Luis Damian Guell, and the sound of the end result is an attraction in its own right.

- I feel privileged to have found and brought together so many fine musicians. Each has that very special something, which was important
